

IZÄ

FUNK-ELECTRONICA-SOUTH POP: "VENENO"

ABOUT IZÄ

Izä is a powerful voice with Andalusian roots and based in Barcelona, where she collaborates with some of the most respected musicians from the flamenco fusion tradition such as Dj Panko (Ojos de Brujo), Oriol Tramvia and Chico Ocaña (Mártires del Compás).

She has performed with her own project or as part of the band 'Electrorumbaiao' at European festivals Sziget (Hungary, 2017), Zwarte Cross (Netherlands, 2017) and Kokopeli Festival (Francia, 2016). In Barcelona she has played at the prestigious festival Jardins de Pedralbes (2017 + 2018) and in iconic venues such as Museo Nacional de Arte de Catalunya, Marula Cafe, Harlem Jazz Club and Luz de Gas.

ABOUT “VENENO”

“Veneno” (Spanish for “poison”) will be her second album. It will be released on February 2019 by the Barcelona label Satélite K (Juanito Makandé, Carlinhos Brown, Pepe Bao...). Veneno is 8 songs ranging from funk, rock, pop to electronica, with a Southern flamenco twist.

The project recently won the “Summer Vibes” award to best music project from the crowdfunding platform Ulule.com.
